Farm Goals for 1942 Increased
Department of Agriculture Calls for Use of Every Acre to Win War.
WASHINGTON.—Declaring that events since Pearl Harbor had materially broadened demands for American food, the agriculture department has increased its 1942 production goals for hogs, corn for livestock feed, oil-bearing crops, rice, eggs, dry beans and vegetable crops for canning.
The department said that since the original goals were announced last September, the United States had come to be looked upon not only as the arsenal but the food store of the United Nations.
To meet these new demands, the department said farmers would have to produce as never before and put "every acre of land, every hour of labor and every bit of farm machinery, fertilizer and other supplies to the use which will best serve the nation's wartime needs."
Officials said crop loan programs, government purchases under lease-lend and relief programs, and sales of government-held feeds would be employed to provide, in so far as was possible, price incentives.
Corn limitations eased.
Rigid crop control restrictions will be retained on wheat and cotton. Slight increases will be allowed for tobacco. Asserting that large stocks of these crops already exist, the department said production beyond crop control allotments would be a "waste of labor and supplies."
Crop-control limitations on corn were eased somewhat. The 1942 planting goal was increased from 90,000,000 acres to 95,000,000. No marketing quotas will be imposed on the corn crop.
Because of increases in production of hogs and chickens, the department said larger feed supplies would be needed.
Particular emphasis will be placed on oil-bearing crops, the department said, because of loss of Eastern supplies owing to the war. The peanut goal was increased from 3,500,000 to 5,000,000 acres, the bean goal from 7,000,000 to 9,000,000 acres and the flax seed goal from 3,300,000 to 4,500,000. The department said efforts would be made to get production of hard, tailow and grease stepped up in packing plants.
Other goal increases included:
Rice from 1,200,000 to 1,320,000 acres, dry beans from 2,204,000 to 2,600,000 acres, eggs from 4,000,000 to 4,200,000 dozen, hogs for slaughter from 79,200,000 to 82,000 head, flue-cured tobacco from 782,000 to 845,000 acres, burley tobacco from 350,000 to 385,000 acres, other types of tobacco 1,200,000 to 1,320,000 acres, canned peas and tomatoes from 62,700,000 cases produced in 1941 to 78,000,000 cases.
Although cotton allotments were not increased, the department said planting was expected to total about 25,000,000 acres, compared with 25,250,000 in 1941. Marketing quotas will be imposed on this crop.
To encourage greater production of long-staple cotton, the department will offer special premiums on staples of one-eighth inch and longer.

SMITH-EVANS
Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Evans, of Appomattox have announced the marriage of their daughter, Nanette Mae, to Jerry Anderson Smith, son of Mr. E. L. Smith and the late Mrs. E. L. Smith, of Appomattox. The wedding took place on April 11, 1942 at eight o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. R. Reed.
The bride was attired in a powder blue coat suit with British tan accessories. The only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Woodbridge, the sister of the bride. Afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home in Appomattox, where the groom is employed at the Southern Battery Co.

How to Grow Hogs Bigger and Faster

Meat is a concentrated food and the government wants more of it. One important meat is pork. Pigs should hold good for this staple for some time to come. It will pay you to produce more.
Most all farmers grow hogs, but the problem today is to grow them bigger and faster. If you feed them corn alone it will take 11 bushels to make 100 pounds of pork. But a well-balanced ration formula like Southern States PIG & HOG FEED is a much more efficient pork builder. It will pay you to lay in a supply of this feed and follow the directions on the tag.
Take good care of farrowing sows for their condition. The PIG & HOG FEED tag will tell you how to feed the brood sow.

Make Home-Grown Grain Go Further

Southern States Cooperative makes a 40% PORK MAKER feed to use with home-grown grains. This concentrated feed will save you money if you have an ample supply of grains on hand or have laid by some of the government wheat now coming into Eastern farms. With this concentrate you can do a better pork making job at less cost.

GOVERNOR DARDEN ORDERS CONSERVATION OF METALS

Richmond, April 29.—Governor Darden has moved to coordinate the collection of badly needed scrap and waste material among various agencies of the State, and has urged widest possible conservation of items that can be used.
"Each department and institution chief has been asked to report to the division of the budget what plans are being followed in collecting discarded materials. The Governor has also reminded State employees that certain articles contain compounds and typewriter ribbon spools, must be saved for reuse."

SECOND ANNIVERSARY

The local J. C. Huggins Furniture Store announces today special values in furniture, in observance of the first of its second anniversary in Appomattox.
Why are we collecting scrap for war? All the metal needed to make a 30 cal. machine gun could be obtained from the following collection: a pair of roller skates, two door hinges, one door lock, one old spade, one trash burner, one metal bucket.

Town Council Votes to Buy Fire Engine

At a special meeting of the Appomattox Town Council last Thursday night, it was unanimously voted to purchase a new fire engine to replace the present time-worn vehicle. However, it is anticipated that it will require several months to get the necessary priority permits, both for the truck and the equipment going into the make-up of a modern fire engine.
It is estimated that the cost of a new fire engine will be somewhere around $5,500.
